THE UNIQUE HISTORY

Of the Advertising Novelty Industry in Coshocton.

FOUNDER OF THE BUSINESS

Was a Modest Country Editor Whose Progressive Spirit Wouldn't Let Him Stand Still.

A staff writer for the Advertising World, published at Columbus, O., visited Coshocton recently and was so impressed with the unique history of the advertising novelty business here and the stimulus it has given the town, that he made this the theme of the leading article of the October number of that publication. No names are given in the article, but every Coshoctonian will at once recognize the writer's description of the founder of the business and the birthplace of the whole industry—the job room of THE AGE office, then owned by J. F. Meek, who gave up editorial work as the advertising business demanded his undivided attention, and who is today president of the Meek & Beach company, operating the largest industry of its kind in the world, covering a floor space of six acres and giving profitable employment to many hundreds of operatives.

Under the caption "A Busy Town, Which Owes Its Prosperity to the Gospel of Advertising," the World writer says:

"Some years ago—ten or a dozen, perhaps—a man owned a newspaper, with a job room appendage, in an Ohio town of 4,000 or 4,500 people. In addition to the printing plant the man owned a long, level head, which he frequently employed for the purpose of thinking.

"One of his ideas was that it would be a good thing to keep the one job press going a little more steadily than was its wont. The job press used to be pretty busy intermittently; but those periods of intense, ink-consuming activity alternated with large periods when there was so little doing that the rollers got mouldy.

"Not to attempt to go into details, it is sufficient to say that the man hit upon the idea of printing advertising novelties of various sorts. The idea turned out to be not only practicable but profitable; not only profitable but apparently capable of indefinite expansion.

"Thus humbly began the career of Coshocton, Ohio, as a center of the production of advertising novelties. What Willimantic is to thread, Rochester to shoes, and Battle Creek to breakfast foods, that much and more Coshocton is to advertising novelties. The original job department shortly outgrew the parent newspaper plant—moved into a building by itself—then built a factory—then a larger one, and so on, and long since severed and disclaimed all connection with the modest country weekly—which has now become a daily, by the way.

"From the first 'Novelty Company,' or whatever its name was, there have been offshoots from time to time. It seems that some bright man among the working force of the plant would invent or discover something new in the line of 'advertising novelties,' or invent or discover a new and better way of producing some of the standard articles then being produced. Then he would immediately branch out for himself and in an amazingly short time have a big busy plant in successful operation. Sometimes these offshoots combined; sometimes they, in turn, became the parents of other offshoots and so on. Men there be in the town who can trace the growth and development of the industry and all its intricacies; but these things do not interest the casual looker-on so much as does the present actual situation.

The little "side line" has become the chief industry of a town of nearly 10,000 people; in fact it was told me that nearly 90 per cent of the population was supported directly or indirectly by the various concerns engaged in the manufacture of advertising and premium goods. The corner of the job department where stood the old treadle press, has expanded into literal acres and acres of factory room, miles of shafting, and row after row of immense printing, lithographing, embossing and stamping presses. The goods are sold and shipped to all the world.

Thousands of feet of lumber are sawed and planed into yardsticks, rulers, washboards, fan handles, and so on; thousands of yards of muslin are cut up into signs, caps, aprons, horse covers, umbrellas etc.; thousands of pounds of tin and sheet iron and sheet steel are cut and stamped and pressed into signs, matchboxes, flour bins, roasters, tincups etc.; hundreds of hides are worked up into leather novelties; while of paper and cardboard the quantity employed in a year forms a staggering aggregate. And this in a little town where the curfew bell rings at 8 o'clock.

The town has grown from a country village to a busy little city, with paved streets, electric lights, water works, beautiful residences, fine stores, splendid schools.

The hundreds of operatives in the factories make good wages and work steadily; living is cheap, and a general air of justifiable pride and self commendation is perceptible to the visitor.

Everything that can possibly be included under the classification of "advertising novelties" and premium goods is made at Coshocton — made there. These concerns are not amateur printers and school boys engaged in the mail order business. They make the things they sell; and if, by any possible chance, you should want something they have not yet begun to make—presto! one or more of them will begin to make it at once.

And they'll put your ad on it, too. I heard a printer in another town once say "Over at Coshocton they don't think anything of running a two-inch plank through a cylinder press." Verily it seems to be true.

The proprietor and manager of one of these plants came from somewhere about the works and talked to me about the business—a plain, shrewd man who looked like one of his own workmen. He sat there in his shirt sleeves and spoke deprecatingly of the extent of his business; he hadn't been running very long, but did a fair little business—perhaps two hundred thousand dollars a year! This is a town of 8,000 or so, and his plant one of half a dozen or more.

It may be that I have not adhered strictly to accurate chronology and literalness in the details of my story, but in the main it is correct; and the conditions therein described seem destined to continue the development of the industry to dimensions impossible to predict. Coshocton has the "start" of all the rest of the world—and she'll keep ahead. C. S. ANDERSON.

END OF NEXT WEEK

Will See Resumption of Work In the Anthracite Fields.

THE ENTIRE REGION IS REJOICING

Official Call Issued For a Convention of Miners, at Which the Arbitration Proposition Will Be Submitted and No Doubt Accepted—Both Sides Satisfied With the Arbiters.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 17.—The executive boards of the three anthracite districts of the United Mine Workers of America, in joint session here, unanimously decided to recommend to a delegate convention of striking miners the acceptance of the arbitration proposition submitted by the president of the United States, and it is reasonably certain that the advice will be followed and the great struggle brought to a close. The convention will be convened in this city Monday morning, and it is the hope and the belief of the officers of the union that the mining of coal will be resumed before the close of next week, after a suspension of more than five months. The citizens of the entire region are much elated that the strife is almost over, because business in the coal fields has been practically paralyzed since the strike began.

The official call reads:

"At a meeting of the executive boards of Districts 1, 7 and 9, it was unanimously agreed to issue a call for a delegate convention and recommend to that convention that all mine workers now on strike return to their former positions and working places and submit to the commission appointed by the president of the United States all questions at issue between the operators and mine workers of the anthracite coal fields. In pursuance whereof you are hereby notified that a convention will be held in the city of Wilkesbarre, Pa., beginning at 10 a. m., Monday, Oct. 20. The purpose of the convention will be to act on the proposition submitted by the president of the United States. Local unions will hold meetings not later than Friday night and elect delegates to attend said convention."

It was late on Thursday afternoon when the three district boards were called into session, which lasted two hours and 15 minutes. There was some opposition manifested in the meeting against certain features of the plan, but after a full discussion of the objectionable parts a unanimous vote was taken to recommend to the convention the acceptance of the proposition. These are the executive boards which, on May 8 last, ordered the strike to begin, which action was approved in the face of Mr. Mitchell's opposition, by the Hazleton convention a few days later. It is expected that some objections will be raised on the floor of the convention, but the officers are confident that the opposition will disappear when President Mitchell explains all the features of the modified proposition to the delegates.

End Anticipated.

The coal companies, anticipating the ending of the strike next week, are busily engaged in preparing for resumption. Tens of thousands of coal cars are in the regions ready for loading, and extra efforts will be made in moving them to the large distributing centers once mining is resumed. It is estimated that more than 200 of the 350 collieries will be in operation by the end of next week, and will produce enough coal to relieve the situation. An authority in coal mining said that the coal companies, as a result of the strike, are 30,000,000 tons behind.

A question was raised as to whether Commissioner Wright, who will be the recorder of the commission, shall have the right to vote in case the six other members of the board are equally divided on any question in connection with a settlement. Mr. Mitchell, when asked, appeared to be sure that he had not, and other officials of the union were also uncertain of Mr. Wright's status. The matter of the term of years that the agreement shall be in force was also a source of much inquiry. The union was strongly opposed to the operators fixing the term of years. One district president said this feature had been left to the discretion of the commission as suggested in Mr. Mitchell's proposition, while other officials said they knew nothing about it. President Mitchell, for some reason, did not care to discuss any feature of the arbitration agreement, while the matter was still in the hands of the miners. If the plans of the strike leaders are not disarranged, a general resumption of mining will take place about next Thursday.

Ready to Resume.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 17.—Of the 98 collieries operated by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, the Delaware and Hudson, the Temple, the Erie and the Ontario and Western company, the five big "carriers" having headquarters here, only two, the Butler at Pittston and the Hallstead at Duryea, which were allowed to flood, can not be reopened at once.

THE YEAR'S COAL SHORTAGE

If the coal strike should be settled in the next few days, says the Cleveland Leader, the anthracite mines would be driven to their utmost capacity. The miners would be eager to work fast and steadily to make up, in some measure, for their great losses, in time and earnings. The operators would be desirous of making good their lack of income in the past months of stagnation. They would also be spurred on by the clamor of the public for fuel.

The hard coal mines of Pennsylvania have often produced about 6,000,000 tones in a month. Under extreme pressure they might turn out 18,000,000 or possibly 20,000,000 tons between the middle of October and the end of the year. In that case the total shortage in the anthracite supply for 1902 would be from 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 tons, calculated from the consumption of such coal last year.

That would be equal to about 10 per cent of the total coal supply of the country, including all varieties and all sections. The proportion does not seem large until it is remembered that no great stock of coal is accumulated above ground, in ordinary years when the mines are as busy as usual. Nor is more than a small fraction of the total coal product consumed in any other than necessary ways. There is little waste, compared with the coal which is used intelligently and effectively.

Under such circumstances, a decrease of 10 per cent in the year's coal supply must mean much loss and trouble for a great number of business concerns and families, even if the struggle should end soon and all possible haste should be made to repair the damages suffered. The speculators who are buying coal in Great Britain for shipment to the United States are on safe ground. The coal strike will be followed by scarcity of fuel quite sufficient to keep prices at an abnormal level.

The Democratic editors of Ohio are short of amunition this campaign.

The local Democratic organization is wondering why Tom Johnson's tent show doesn't come this way.

It is a perfectly safe proposition to trust the settlement of the coal strike and a regulation of the trusts to President Roosevelt. He is the man behind the guns at the present time.

Petroeumologist is the latest. His name is Jones, and his address is Los Angeles, California. He locates oil wells and oil lands for a cash consideration. He ought to be one of the greatest millionaires of the world, but strange to say, Dun's and Bradstreet's fail to rate him as such. Professor Jones is a good advertiser, but he fails to say whether he uses a witch hazel divining rod or a mercurized Spanish needle to his explorations. The most successful method of discovering oil wells known to the industry is that of the drill.—Oil City Derrick.

Somebody watched the behavior of 500 Chicagoans as they approached a ladder that was leaning against a wall. No less than 366 refused to walk under it, although the effort to avoid this took them out of the way and waited several precious seconds in each case. If the records numbered three for every detour, you have eighteen minutes and more as a sacrifice on superstition's altar. Seems dreadfully childish, doesn't it, and yet would you walk under a ladder if you could avoid it?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A man who knows what he is talking about gives this version of the coal strike in the anthracite fields. He says:

"Greed seems to be the trouble on both sides of the miners' strike. It is a fact that the average miner earns about $6 a day in the anthracite mines, working about six hours. He pays his helper $2, and nets $4. The helpers were about to strike when the miners struck. I should like to see the helper helped a little by the miner while the war is on, for it is the helper who does the hardest work, and at the same time the operator deserves a slap, for every last one of them is willing to fatten on the distress of the poor rather than yield a dollar to keep the dinner pails full."

It stands alone. It towers above. There's no other. Its natures wonder a warming poultice to the heart of mankind. Such is Rocky Mountain Tea.—C. E. Anderson.

UNCLE SAM LEADS.

Some Facts and Figures Anent the World's Production of Coal.

Washington, Oct. 17.—The United States general land survey estimates the world's production of coal in 1901 at 566,165,549 short tons. The three great coal producing countries of the world are the United States, Great Britain and Germany. Austria-Hungary comes fourth, France fifth, Belgium sixth and Russia seventh. The last country, notwithstanding its vast area, produces only about 5 per cent as much coal as the United States. Prior to 1899 Great Britain led among the world's coal producers, but during 1899, 1900 and 1901 the United States has made such remarkable increases in coal production, due principally to the unprecedented activity in the iron and steel and other metal trades, that it now stands far in the lead.

Bishop Spalding Talks.

Peoria, Ills., Oct. 17.—Bishop John Lancaster Spalding, one of the commission of six named by the president to arbitrate the anthracite strike differences, said: "It is impossible for me to say anything of importance in this matter, as I have not been officially notified that I have been appointed. I am highly sensible of the honor that such an appointment would confer, and I feel that it should be my duty and pleasure to accept it in the event that the president considers me worthy. It is certainly a great honor and imposes a sacred duty on whomsoever it may descend."

Large Gross Earnings.

New York, Oct. 17.—The annual report of the Distilling Company of America for the year ending June 30, showed gross earnings of $55,371,806, an increase of $3,651,906 over the previous year, but through an increase of $2,290,444 in the cost of production and distribution the gain in net earnings was reduced to $1,365,495. At the same time payments in connection with interest taxes, rentals and miscellaneous items were $1,288,991 in excess of 1901, so that the increase in surplus was brought down to $76,509.

A Shoe Chance

THAT REPRESENT ONLY A SLIGHT ADVANCE OVER

If there's one department in this big store that we're more proud of than another it's the Shoe Department. Have a right to be.

Since we doubled the size of the Sudicate, the Shoe Department occupies one whole side of the west room. Stretching from front to rear are long rows of the best footwear that ever came to Coshocton.

Petty big claim? Certainly is. But we know exactly what we're talking about.

We determined to get hold of the best shoes that can be produced and then sell them at prices no other dealer in Coshocton county could dream of giving.

And let us tell you right here that we've put no end of time and pains into the task we cut out for ourselves. We investigated this shoe and that, discarding one after another because it didn't come up to the mark. Among some manufacturers we got the reputation of being "cranks" because we were so particular.

We knew what we wanted. We didn't stop till we got it. And by buying in enormous quantities we got extraordinary low figures too.

The results of our work are here for you. And as we said before they're the finest shoes that ever came to Coshocton. The prices are so low that they simply sweep aside competition.

The American Gentleman.
$3 50

The perfection of shoe-making. Incomparable in its stylish finish. It has in the highest degree that quality which is sought more than any other—durability.

A gentleman who knows shoes like a book—worked among them and made a study of them—remarked the other day: "That American Gentleman shoe of yours is the equal of any $5 shoe in Coshocton." And he spoke the truth.

The newest styles, in patent kid and box calf.

The American Lady

It's circle of admirers is widening every day. The first pair makes a fast friend every time. A 5 A shoe in every particular. The styles are unusually graceful. Patent colt skin, patent kid and vici.

Highland Calf

Meets just the needs of a man who wants a shoe that will wear like iron and at the same time be perfectly suitable for street wear. Negligence will tell you of the strength and wear there is in them. We want you to compare them with any $4 shoe you know about.

Shoes occupy but one of the fifteen departments in this big store of ours. Hence the running expenses are one fifteenth those of a store that sells nothing but shoes. That's one reason our prices are unmatchable.

We've some other splendid shoes we want to show you when you visit us.

Labor Leaders Satisfied.

Pittsburg, Oct. 17.—The men selected to arbitrate and settle the anthracite coal strike are regarded as satisfactory by the local members of the miners' and other labor organizations. Uriah Bellingham, acting president of the Pittsburg district of the United Mine Workers, said that the men are sufficiently removed from active interests in coal production and of such intelligence that the miners can safely rest their case on the judgment of the commissioners.

Operators on the Commission.

New York, Oct. 17.—Presidents Truesdale, Fowler and Underwood and Chairman Thomas called at Mr. Morgan's office. President Underwood was asked what he thought of the committee appointed by President Roosevelt. "It is a good commission," he said. "Nobody could have appointed a better one."

HAMMER AND TONGS

Marvin Hart and Kid Carter Were at It In Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Oct. 17.—One of the best sparring contests ever witnessed in this city took place at the Penn Art club between Marvin Hart of Louisville and Kid Carter of Brooklyn. The two men were in fine form and for six rounds they were at it hammer and tongs, demonstrating conclusively their entire ability to give and take any amoun of punishment. Although under the law no decisions are permitted in this city, the audience was unanimous in declaring the bout a draw. In the third round a hard blow on the jaw sent Hart to the floor and he shrewdly took the count, the brief respite being sufficient for him to recover his strength. The bout was a combination of science and of brawn, with which both men were amply supplied.

Convention Broke Up.

Boston, Oct. 17.—After several days spent in balloting, the Ninth Congressional district convention broke up without making a nomination. The scenes at the closing sessions were boisterous, physical encounters being prevented only by the energetic action of the police. The district is overwhelmingly Democratic. It is remodeled from the old Ninth, long represented by John F. Fitzgerald, who at one time had the distinction of being New England's only Democratic congressman. Five times the convention sat, and in a total of 47 ballots taken the vote of 153 delegates scarcely varied from 54 for Congressman Joseph A. Conry, 54 for ex-Senator John A Keliher, and 51 for Joseph A. Denison, a lawyer.

ANNOUNCEMENT TO INVESTORS:

MINE LAMOTT LEAD & SMELTING COMPANY owns 437.61 acres of ground located in Madison and St. Francois Counties, Southeastern Missouri. Of that total 13.544 ACRES ARE KNOWN TO BE HEAVILY MINERALIZED. Only 30 acres have been developed by underground workings, and about 67 acres have received attention on the surface.

THE MINES ARE PRODUCING TODAY, UNDER VERY LIMITED OPERATION, MORE THAN $150 000 A YEAR. The present management is now installing machinery and improvements that will swell this annual output to AT LEAST $500,000. Present shafts and drifts place in sight ore enough to tax all available machinery for centuries. Eliminating from the calculation all revenue from agricultural, timbering and miscellaneous sources, the property will earn a sum ample to pay immense dividends annually on the capitalization.

Investment in such a proposition as this does not in any sense border upon speculation. Stock in this corporation is as carefully protected as a Government bond. Since it is offered to you at a figure considerably below par, you can be assured of several times the ordinary rate of income.

Mine La Motte has been for more than a century, one of the most famous lead producers in the country. It is the only mine today producing and shipping Nickle and Cobalt regularly. Its "Anenor" Brand of Pig Lead has been the standard of the market for years.

The estate, mine and plant has been under private ownership and control until now. From this time forward the output of the property will be increased as fast as modern machinery and methods can be installed to do it. Present earnings assure annual dividends of at least 5 per cent. on par, and inside six months this will be doubled.

A small block of stock is herewith offered for sale at $7 50 per share, (par value $10. The amount put out at this figure will be very limited. Immediate investors can make good profit, both on income and on rise in value of stock : : : : : : : : : : : : :

A large number of representative Ohio investors have already made careful personal inspection of property and plant. We will place you in touch with them, or if you or any of your friends will undertake your own personal investigation we will submit proposition to defray all expense incident to same. We shall ask you to do no business with us unless you may be absolutely satisfied as to the safety, integrity and profit of this investment.

Cuban Cabinet About to Consider the Commercial Treaty.

Havana, Oct. 17.—Business men who have been called in to consult with President Palma on the proposed Cuban-American commercial treaty feel assured that the cabinet will approve the proposition of the United States, and that it will be sent to congress within a few days for adoption. There is some fear that the radical element in congress will object to approving any commercial treaty without first settling the question of coaling stations and without being informed clearly of the intentions of the United States with regard to the enforcement of the Platt amendment. The commercial treaty is practically the Bliss tariff schedule. It leaves the present duty in force against all other nations, but gives the United States a differential of from 30 to 50 per cent. In return the United States offers Cuba a reductio in duties of 20 per cent.

Don't Think About Yourself.

In the course of a talk the other day President Elliot gave Harvard freshmed this advice: "There is one rule to bear in mind whether in company or alone—don't think about yourself. Many a fellow popular in college turns out to be a man whose energies are concentrated wholly on self advancement. Give up these thoughts on self. You no longer belong to yourself; you belong to society and must live up to its traditions."

A Farmer's Story.

Newcastle, Pa., Oct. 17.—W. R. Walters, a farmer of Union township, tells a story, strongly corroborated by his wife, which, if substantial, will prove a complete alibi for Frank Fields, in jail here charged with the murder of City Treasurer John Blevins, who was found dead one night in January, 1899. Walters claims that Judson Fields, the half-brother of the prisoner, who it is alleged made a dying confession implicating himself and the prisoner in the murder, was employed by him on his farm, and on the night of the murder that neither Judson Fields nor himself left the farmhouse, and that they knew nothing of the murder until they arrived in Newcastle the next morning.

The Fifth Victim.

Pittsburg, Oct. 17.—Adelaide Cawley, 7, died at the South Side hospital, making the fifth death as the result of the Homestead tragedy of last week, for which Charles Cawley is now in the Allegheny county jail, charged with having committed the deed.
